

When They Move In, You Want To Move OUT!

OUT!

Nothing is more frustrating than the invasion of a variety of annoying flying pests on your farm. Whether you are in the barn, milkroom, storage buildings or even your home, these pests can be annoying and a health hazard. While bugs have always come in through open doors and windows, in recent years the seasonal invasions of flies and Asian beetles has increased.

Fight Back With

We all have used a variety of weapons to fight off these irritating pests, but they just continue to be a nuisance. Now with FlyWeb you can fight this seasonal invasion. Plus, FlyWeb will continue to fight the battle of other flying insects that invade your farm buildings and home all year-round.

FlyWeb® Traps Annoying Pests

The FlyWeb insect light is designed for indoor use in residential homes, farm out-buildings or wherever there are flying insects. Its compact size makes it perfect to hide while it continues the job of getting rid of flying pests. All you need is an electrical outlet. Remove the protective coating on the adhesive board, insert it into the unit, plug it in and the trap is set.

The FlyWeb attracts flying insects by using an energy-efficient 9-watt UV light. Flying insects are drawn to the UV light and trapped on the replaceable, adhesive glue card.
